Fim. 6.—The United States vs. John Creighton, Francis O' Keefe, Andrew Morrison, Charles Walters, Wm. Lyster, D. H. Dillumphom, Joseph R. Mail, Geo. B. Hall and Addison Farmeworth.—At the sitting of the Court this morning, the case of the above named defendants, jointly indicted for participation in the alledged fillibustering exp. dition to Nicaregus, came up. The court room was throughed with apparently much interested spectators. The defendants being severally called, all answered, with the exception of Mr. Dillinghams.

Mr. McKeon said that he understood Mr. Dillingham was not in town, but Mr. Cutting, his counsel, had just was not in town, but Mr. Cutting, his counsel, had just informed blm that he would write a note to Dillingham, and it would be likely, therefore, that he would be here the next day. The government was quite prepared to go on with the case, it Mr. Dilliogham were present, but in his absence would not. Several of the detendants here requested that the trial should go on, but the liketrict Attorney would not accede to the request.

After some conversation between the learned counsel on both si es.

The Court observed that it was possible some grave and important legal ques ions might arise during the trial of the cause, and suggested if it would not be disposed of by a fuller Court.

1: was finally, siter some conversational discussion of an utimportant charsoler, ordered teat the case stand over until the April term, and that the defendants renew their recognizances to appear.

Ex Juage Phulips, in behalf of Mr. Mali, requested a separate and immediate trial for his client, but the United States Datariet Autorney would not conseat.

The petry Jury was then discharged until the next term. At a later posice of the day Judge Phillips addressed the Court, a sating that the defendants were in a very decititute condition. Under the o der of the Court their trul had gone over until the April term. He regretted that, especially as regarded Mr. As I, who was in exceedingly bad health, so much so as to reader a Southern climate almost incapenable. He would now ask the Court either to reduce the bail to a nominal sum, or make such an order as will relieve them of the expense at the Cierk's cosk and express their willingness to the renewal of their recognizances.

Mr. Jonchimssen remarked that the expense was noting at all. The parties to the conds had only to appear at the Cierk's cosk and express their willingness to the renewal of not be replaced for a reduction. If there were any reasonable grounds for a reduction. If there were any reasonable grounds for a reduction. If there were any reasonable grounds for a reduction

jecton, as the same time observing that he would direct the Commissioner to charge the expenses to the government.

Mr. Hoffman then asked the Court to reduce the ball of defendants to $1,500 each—the sum to which Mr. Mai's hall had been reduced, and said that those parties had no intention whatever of running away—they fest bound in honor to stay and await their trial.

Mr. Jeachimeses tacught $1,500 would be enough as to Mait, Lyster and Walters, but not as to Major Hall. As to Mr. Creighten, he could have no difficulty in getting bels—his nather justified over and over age in.

Mr. Hoffman put it to the Court, that as Mail was indicted as being equally guilty with the others, and his both had been reduced to $1,500, it was but reasonable that the parties j intly indicted with him should also have their bail reduced to that amount. He urged tals particularly as to Major Hall, who had no property—in fact, heart ta cent.

Mr. Josehimssen would not consent to any such thing as regarded Major Hall. He had been the head and front of this encertailer.

The Court intimated that the matter had before a allowed to to a and over till Friday morning.

Mr. Hoffman still further urged his application as to the reduction of Major Hall's hell, and deelt with much force upon the straightened pecuniary circumstances of this client.

Mr. Josebimesen of served that Major Hall had given up and the street of the Custom House in order to ent upon this fibbusiering expection.

Mr. Heffman—What stuation?

Mr. Jeachimser—He was stockeeper.

The whole matter was then perfoned until Friday.

A MAN FOUND DEAD IN THE CHIMNEY OF A TENS-MENT HOUSE—CORONER'S INQUEST.

Yesterday morning, Coroner Hills was notified that the body of a man had been discovered in the chimney of the tenement house No. 140 Cherry street, by some workmen, while they were endeavoring to ascertain the reason for the flues not drawing priperly. Upon proceeding to the spot, the truth of the statement was quite apparent to the eyes of all. In the back bedroom of the top story a bole had been cut through the flue, revealing the state of preservation. By direction of the Coroner aperture was enlarged to such an extent that the body tedroom. The corpse was almost entirely naked, being covered by a pair of drawers and shirt only. These arti-

George Francis, residing at No. 140 Cherry street, deposed that he occupied the sarth story of the rear building; my windows are on a level with the roof of the front building; did of about New Year's morning, while I was in my room, I saw a man coming up through the scuttle of the front home; he had his night clothes (shirt and drawers) on, which I thought was very singular, as the roof was covered with ice and snow; I saw the man advance to the railing of the chimney, and guiting upon it lowered himself into the chimney, and guiting upon it lowered himself into the chimney, and guiting upon it lowered himself into the chimney, and guiting upon it lowered himself into the chimney, and guiting upon it lowered himself into the condense of with him at the time; I thought he was crazy, and told my wife of the eccurrence; I slac told a man (into whose five he supposed the deceased had went) of the affair, but notice was taken of it; it was in this room that the body was taken out; I thought the man had some means of guiting down into the room by the chimney, so I avamined my own chimney afterwards, thinking that burglars could get into my premises in this way, but I found a bar of iron across the fina.

Even Hassell, M. D., deposed that he made an external examination of the body, and gave it as his opinion that death was caused by suffication.

The case was then given to the jury, sho, after due deliteration, remered a

NO REVOLUTION EXPECTED—MILITARY EXECUTIONS
BY THE EMPERON—DEPRESSION OF THE MARKETS.
By the arrival of the General Taylor at this port, the Post has received letters from Port au Prince to the 6th of January.

In its poot to the polititical and commercial condition
of the capital, our correspin ent writes as follows:—

PORT AU PRINCE, Jan. 6, 1850.

* * In respect to political matters, I hardly know what to write you, but the feeling seems now to be much stronger that we are to have no revolution for the present.
The horst and the South appear to be perfectly quiet, and as to this place, there is not the least sign of insurrection. The Emperor is said to be now at the Caps, though, to no very long time we expect him to come to Port au Prince, and then finally to close the campaign
—at its st we hope he will do so, as in that case mainess will immeriately revive all over the country, and consumption and cale be resumed.

There has been quie a number of military executions to the avmy. Among others, General Toussaint and General Cantaine, of Jeremie, and another general from Aux Cayes. The lost two are said to have been traitors
to the government and to have been on intimate nerms
with some of the leaders of the Kastern people during several years part. Several other officers of inferior grade have all other encounted.

The arrivals of the Milton, John Boynton, Dagon, Croton and Kerneson, all to commence discharging to morrow, have filled (or rather will fill) the place to overtilow ing with provisions. It is useless to quote prices, as they will be uncettled and failing from day to day, and toere
are no sales except for immediate consumption.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 6, 1856.

The market was rather pourly supplied with beef cattle at Allerton's to-day, the immense quantities of snow on the reliscad routes forming an impediment to receipts during the week, and prices advanced in consequence he.

a le, per lb. The supply here consisted of 1 112 head of fresh cattle nearly all of which were sold before noon.
Of these, 296 came from this, and the remainder from this Stare. Quality fair. Cows and calves were scarce, and full prices were obtained for the new offering. Year calves firm at 65/c. a 73/c. Saine mees with a ready sale at 6c. a 63/c. live weight. Sneep and lambs are scarce and firm. The sales of the week were thus reported:—
